Driving Tips

Excessive speed is the main cause of traffic accidents on gravel roads. It is therefore essential not to exceed the prescribed limit of 60 - 70 km/h.

Always drive with your lights on so that oncoming traffic can see you way in advance.

Check the pressure of your tires because the pressure plays an important role in the road holding of your vehicle.

Be extra careful traveling at the end of the afternoon and at night, since this is when game tends to cross the road.

Always be on the lookout for animals.

Overtaking on gravel roads is dangerous. Draw the attention of the driver in front of you by flashing your headlights.

Be on the outlook for changes in road conditions all the time i.e. sandy patches, potholes, water and sharp bends. Often the road is different from what it seems like.

In the cities, be very much aware of the taxi drivers. They will stop whenever they think they see a new passenger.

Always keep both hands on the steering wheel.

SPEED LIMIT GUIDELINES:

- Tarred roads: 120 km/h
- Gravel roads: 80 km/h
- Towns: 60 km/h
